

Mentorn Media, the company who made C4's "Katie: My Beautiful Face" about model Katie Piper coming to terms with severe acid burns is now working with Katie on a new series about people adapting to an altered facial or body appearance. This may be the result of burns, an accident or through medical reasons.

We would like to talk to people who have vitiligo, and feel that this has a profound impact on their life and how others see them. If this sounds like you or someone you know, we'd be interested to hear your story.
